ANNUAL MEMORIAL MASS

Our Parish annual Mass to remember our brothers and sisters whom God has called home during the previous twelve months will be celebrated at 5:30 PM on Monday, November 3rd.

Family members and friends are encouraged to attend and light a candle during the intercessions when their loved one's name is announced.

Each year, on All Souls' Day, our Parish celebrates

THE BLESSING OF OUR PARISH CEMETERY

to honor the souls faithful departed who are buried there.

Meet at the Cross at 4:00 PM. Bring a lawn chair.

VOCATIONS

"For whoever exalts himself will be humbled, and the one who humbles himself will be exalted."

(Luke 18:14)

Humility is essential in all vocations, whether it be sacramental marriage, priesthood, or consecrated life. What are some ways you can work on becoming humbler in your life? Have you humbled yourself to ask God what His plan is for you. Talk to your priest or reach out to Father Joshua Weaver, Vocation Director, at (717) 657-4804 or email him at frjweaver@hbgdiocese.org.

My Dear Brothers and Sisters in Christ,

From a sermon by St. Bernard, Abbot (Sermo 2: Opera omnia, Edit Cisterc. 5[1968], 364-368):

Let us make haste to our brethren who are awaiting us.

Why should our praise and glorification, or even the celebration of this feast day mean anything to the saints? What do they care about earthly honours when their heavenly Father honours them by fulfilling the faithful promise of the Son? What does our commendation mean to them? The saints have no need of honour from us; neither does our devotion add the slightest thing to what is theirs. Clearly, if we venerate their memory, it serves us, not them. But I tell you, when I think of them, I feel myself inflamed by a tremendous yearning.

Calling the saints to mind inspires, or rather arouses in us, above all else, a longing to enjoy their company, so desirable in itself. We long to share in the citizenship of heaven, to dwell with the spirits of the blessed, to join the assembly of patriarchs, the ranks of the prophets, the council of apostles, the great host of martyrs, the noble company of confessors and the choir of virgins. In short, we long to be united in happiness with all the saints. But our dispositions change. The Church of all the first followers of Christ awaits us, but we do nothing about it. The saints want us to be with them, and we are indifferent. The souls of the just await us, and we ignore them.

Come, brothers, let us at length spur ourselves on. We must rise again with Christ, we must seek the world which is above and set our mind on the things of heaven. Let us long for those who are longing for us, hasten to those who are waiting for us, and ask those who look for our coming to intercede for us. We should not only want to be with the saints, we should also hope to possess their happiness. While we desire to be in their company, we must also earnestly seek to share in their glory. Do not imagine that there is anything harmful in such an ambition as this; there is no danger in setting our hearts on such glory.

When we commemorate the saints we are inflamed with another yearning: that Christ our life may also appear to us as he appeared to them and that we may one day share in his glory. Until then we see him, not as he is, but as he became for our sake. He is our head, crowned, not with glory, but with the thorns of our sins. As members of that head, crowned with thorns, we should be ashamed to live in luxury; his purple robes are a mockery rather than an honour. When Christ comes again, his death shall no longer be proclaimed, and we shall know that we also have died, and that our life is hidden with him. The glorious head of the Church will appear and his glorified members will shine in splendour with him, when he forms this lowly body anew into such glory as belongs to himself, its head.

Therefore, we should aim at attaining this glory with a wholehearted and prudent desire. That we may rightly hope and strive for such blessedness, we must above all seek the prayers of the saints. Thus, what is beyond our own powers to obtain will be granted through their intercession.¹

Live for God.

Be transformed by His Grace.

Go and make disciples.

Peace in Christ, Father Michael

FAMILY LIFE & SOCIAL MEDIA WORKSHOP

Join us at Delone Catholic Sheppard Gym Sunday, November 2, at 7:30 pm for an informative workshop:

“Where Family Life and Social Media Collide”.

If you have children, you are likely wondering about the impact of social media and technology in their lives. Perhaps you feel like you could use some help to figure out how to approach the topic in a thoughtful, intentional way from a Christian perspective. Join us for this interactive workshop aimed at looking at trends, impacts of social media on kids and adults.

Hosted by Michelle Young, a clinical social worker with more than two decades of experience working in mental health with children, adults, and families. She is also on the faculty at McDaniel College.
